

SAM SMITH PARK

PLAY AREA RENOVATION

Seattle Parks and Recreation invites families, neighbors, children and all regular visitors to Sam Smith Park for a public meeting about the play area. This will be an opportunity to review options for replacing the play equipment and surfacing for the play area.

Seattle Parks and Recreation's Sr. Landscape Architect will explain the project and gather community input. Join us and let us know which equipment would provide the most play value to you and your family.

The project includes replacement of play equipment, replacement of the safety surfacing, creating better access and other improvements at the play area originally built in 1994. This project is funded out of the King County 2013 Levy.

All are encouraged to come help pick out the future play equipment for Sam Smith Park.
